Teacher's Remarks:

Evo Morales became President of Bolivia in 2006 and his main challenge is to guarantee a free primary education for all, that will lead to its universalization. Another challenge is the lack of teachers; it is necessary to increase the number in order to guarantee the quality of education, specially in rural areas. Besides, it is necessary to expand secondary education, to fight the high corruption and to improve the protection of teacher's unions.
