

2019 Global Action Week for Education

Overarching theme: Making the right to an inclusive, equitable, quality, free public education a reality

Proposed slogan: My Education, My right(s)

Main Message

The Global Action Week for Education (GAWE) is a flagship event for the civil society education movement, and has been running successfully since 2003.

The 2019 theme encompasses several of the draft strategic plan focus areas. It relates closely to the strategic focus area 1 on 'Equality and non-discrimination' and key actions related to developing a rights-based campaign and exploring the justiciability of education as a human right. The theme also has linkages with the strategic area 'Education in emergencies' and also articulates with the strategic plan focus area 2 on Transformative education and with SDG4 target 4.7 "

We are at a critical point that demands stronger commitments of all partners to ensure the timely delivery of free quality education for all as set out in the Education 2030 agenda: children starting school in 2019 will complete their 12 years basic education by 2030. It is an ideal moment to interrogate stakeholders on their commitment, and to assess if the fundamental human right to free inclusive quality public education for all will become a reality.

GAWE 2019 – Calls on governments to

- Subscribe to, ratify and implement the human rights treaties and optional protocols
- Commit to the full realisation and implementation of SDG4
- Invest in public education systems, according to international standards (at least 6% GNP, 20% public budget) and ensure that 3-5% is used for accommodations for students with disabilities.
- Raise the attractiveness of the teaching profession, ensuring that teachers have decent employment and working conditions, enjoy their full trade union rights (especially freedom of association and collective bargaining) and are well supported with quality initial and continuous professional training.
- Develop gender sensitive education sector plans, including a participatory monitoring and evaluation with civil society organisations.
- Provide a framework, allocated resources and planning for delivering education in context of emergencies, and to IDPS and migrants.
- Address exclusion and discrimination in curriculum, teaching and learning materials and school governance
- Foster children and youth participation as a key strategy for the education public policies
- Provide progressively free of charge public quality tertiary education, including university education.

- Foster the proper CSO monitoring mechanisms for increasing efficiency in spending of education budget and its proper utilisation.
- Ratify ILO Convention 138 on the Minimum Age for Employment, which stipulates that the permissible age of entry into employment "shall not be less than the age of completion of compulsory schooling and, in any case, shall not be less than 15 years.
- Provide a second chance to out-of-school children and child labourers, by implementing accelerated learning courses to mainstream them to their age-appropriate classes in the public education system.
